

Name Games

Source(s): <http://www.pastor2youth.com/theatergames.html>
Shared by an unknown middle school teacher in the ASD

Stupid Name Game

(This is great for an ice breaker or for getting names memorized)

1. Have students stand in a circle.
2. You will start by stating your name and showing an action or mannerism that you commonly.
3. The person to the instructor's left will state the instructors name and mannerism and then add his/her name and then his/her mannerism. This continues around the circle until the last person can remember every person's name and mannerism.

Going On A Picnic

The leader explains to the group that he is going on a picnic, and any of them can come along with him...provided they bring the something appropriate with them. The leader starts by saying his name and one thing he will bring...for example, my name is Tim and I'm bringing some tea to the picnic. Each person playing the game must then do the same thing, and the leader will tell him or her whether or not he or she can come. The trick is, a person can only come if the thing they are bringing begins with the same first letter as their name. Go around the circle until everyone has figured it out.