

VOICE

6... A. This paper is distinctive; the reader can tell at once that it's MY voice. B. I think the reader will definitely want to share this paper aloud. C. I LOVE this topic, and my enthusiasm will make the reader like it also. D. I thought of the needs and interests of my audience throughout the paper. E. The voice of this piece is perfect for my purpose.	5... A. This voice stands out from others. It's personal. B. The reader might want to share this paper aloud. I would. C. I like this topic, so a lot of energy comes through. D. I considered my audience, and I think this voice is right. E. The voice is just right for my purpose.	4... A. My voice comes through clearly in parts. B. The reader might share moments here and there. C. I like this topic for the most part. The writing has some energy. D. I think the voice is an OK match for my audience. E. My voice seems OK for my purpose.
3... A. I am not sure that this paper sounds like me. B. This paper isn't quite ready to share aloud. C. I could not get too excited about this topic. D. I was writing to get done, not writing for an audience. E. I do not know whether this voice fits my purpose.	2... A. I do not think this sounds much like me. B. This paper is NOT ready to share aloud. There isn't enough voice! C. I did not like this topic. I think I sound a little bored or tired. D. I just wanted it to be over. I don't care whether anyone reads this. E. Because I am not sure what my purpose is, I don't know whether my voice fits or not.	1... A. I do not hear any voice in this writing. B. Share this aloud? Not for anything! C. This topic was so-o-o-o boring - plus, I didn't know much about it! D. Why would anyone want to read this? I don't even like it myself. E. I do not know my purpose for writing this.

