NAVIGATING THIS TRAINING WEBSITE

1. What to read

Staff familiar with the IEP program used by ASD Special Education during the 2005-2006 school year can skim through this training just reading the parts showing updates to the program. These are denoted with one of the following green statements:

- All information on this page is new -

- All information in this section is new -

- This section is new -

- The information below is new -

All other staff should read through this entire website.

2. Multi-Use Forms

Some forms are used several times throughout the IEP program. For your ease in navigating this training, these forms are all listed on a separate web page with links from where they are used in IEPs. As you will probably not need to view these forms more than once, the first time a link to that form appears, it will state:

- This is the first time to view this form within this training -

3. Horizontal Lines

Please be aware that horizontal lines and "Return to Top" buttons appear throughout this site to differentiate topics within a page and ease your navigation when searching for specific topics. BE CERTAIN you have scrolled to the bottom of each page, not just to one of these lines, before moving on.

4. Printing this Site

If you would prefer to print all pages of this website, you can do so by downloading this PDF. The printed version will be updated as the website is, however, you should remember to check back periodically, as the version you print may become outdated. To be sure you have the most current version, check the "Latest update" information at the top of this page.

5. Locating specific information

- On the website: use the sitemap link
- In printed form: use the index at the end of the document
- In downloaded PDF format:
  - Click on the "Bookmarks" tab on the left side of your Adobe Acrobat screen to see links. (Fig. a)
  - Click on the triangle next to a topic link to view the subtopics.
