

Art I: Drawing Project

Featured Students

In this project, students brought in personal items of meaning and to draw from life. Before starting they learned about value and how to change the pressure on their pencils to mimic the effects of light by creating highlights, midtones, and shades. Then they learned how to hold their pencils, gesture, and sketch to help them create the base of whatever they want to draw. Finally, they put all that work together to create their final drawings!

The following Art I students have been selected as the featured artists for this project for the amazing amount of focus and diligence it takes to turn a blank piece of paper into an artwork by drawing real life objects that are in front of them. Some of these students had pre-developed skills in drawing based on their own at home practice, while others made amazing progress by trying new techniques and breaking old habits in their drawing practice!
