Anchorage School District and
Anchorage Education Association
Agree to Continue Mediation

The Anchorage School District and Anchorage Education Association are pleased to announce that both sides came to mediation with their sleeves rolled up and ready to work. We feel we have made substantial progress toward an agreement. Both parties have agreed to mediation and have set the next dates for November 6th and 7th. We believe that by continuing to work together we can best address the concerns and meet the needs of each party.
