

Teen Earth Optimism Summit

8 a.m. to 1 p.m. | Saturday, March 14 | Free

SEED Lab, Anchorage Museum | 109 West 6th Avenue

Calling teens ages 13-17 who want to make our home planet a better place. You are invited to collaborate with the Smithsonian Institution and the Anchorage Museum to address climate change in Anchorage and propose youth-led solutions.

What to expect at the Summit:

- Meet other local teens interested in sustainability and addressing climate change
- Listen to a panel discussion by teens who are taking steps to improve water, climate and environment
- Connect with local experts working on different climate change solutions in Anchorage
- Work together to develop and propose a project that can help address climate change, which Anchorage Museum representatives will present at the Smithsonian's Earth Optimism Summit in Washington, D.C., April 23-25
- Be empowered to be climate leaders and make positive change

Space is limited. Register now at www.anchoragemuseum.org/youthsummit. Call 907-929-9258 or email mudevitz@anchoragemuseum.org with questions.

The Anchorage School District does not endorse these materials or viewpoints expressed in them.
