Greetings and Salutations!

We have been enjoying each others company while working together on a variety of projects this week. I commend our students for being kind and inclusive with each other. It is a real pleasure!

There are three particular items that need attention to detail this weekend:

1. LA: Book Report DUE Tuesday February 5th. (If your student needs the book report form, they are found in the Forms folder of News and Information.)
2. Math: Khan Academy; +- Integers and Rounding Decimals. These are reviews.
3. Science: Science Fair Project Hypothesis. Please continue to work with your student on this. The SFP will fall into place once this is completed. (Hint: "If.... then....") If completed, begin to outline the materials and procedures.

Students are being graded on participation regarding Thursday homework assignments.

It is awesome when students show up to class prepared!

Thank you for your help!
