

Dear Winterberry Community,
For the past 10 years I have had the honor and privilege of serving as Winterberry's kindergarten teacher. During this time, I have grown, both personally and professionally, I've had the opportunity to develop beautiful and cherished relationships with many families and even more children, and I've been blessed with deep supportive friendships with my colleagues. It truly has been one of the most nurturing and profound decades of my life.

I find myself at a turning point now. For the past 5 years or so I've dreamed of creating a small oasis of magic in my yard – at first I thought this would be through summer camps, but over time it has become clear to me that what I am called to do, and what my property can support, is something more like a small farm school for an intimate group of preschool age children and a somewhat larger, but still very intimate, network of homeschooling families who are looking to enrich their curriculum.

I will be stepping away from Winterberry to make this dream come true at the conclusion of this school year. Please accept my deep and boundless gratitude to each and every one of you for having been a component of the wonderful experiences I have been a part of at Winterberry. I ask that you lend your love and light to whomever becomes the kindergarten teacher moving forward. That kind of passion and beauty has buoyed me many a day.

Sending you all great love and wishing for all the very, very best.

In love and light and in deep gratitude,
Ms. Lisa

AMBER BELL
Registered Dietitian

- Design a recipe book that flows so you can savor the closeness of mealtime.
- Create a family food rhythm. Make a plan that's personalized, flexible and simple to let variety and creativity flow.

"When I was introduced to Waldorf rhythms I was rushing around like a crazy person on my supermom hamster wheel. I wasn't very interested in food rhythms that might tie me down, until I tried it ... and now I'm hooked! We now eat more variety, with easier prep and shopping, and (bonus) less food tantrums. Having a rhythm makes getting creative much more fun and manageable. Find peace in your meals today."
