Vacations: As we approach the holiday season please keep me informed about days of school your child will be missing. There are assessments and assignments that we need to do before the end of the quarter and it is helpful to have that information.

Uniform Tip of the Week:

“-No headwear, hats, caps, scarves, bandanas or similar items shall be worn in the building.
-Visible hair restraints such as barrettes, scrunchies and headbands must match a color in the uniform being worn, or match the hair color.”

Holiday Party: We are in desperate need of a party planner! This is a job that can be done from home.

It is holiday season and we will be having a class party on December 19th. I am looking for a parent or two to coordinate our party and what we will need. It is a cookie decorating part with snacks. Let me know if you are interested in helping with this.
