Holiday Concert:

Kindergarten is performing a song with designated "parts" for each kid. I have heard from a couple people that their child won't be there. If your family is not planning to be at the concert let us know so we can adjust roles.

Holiday Party: We are in desperate need of a party planner! This is a job that can be done from home.

It is holiday season and we will be having a class party on December 19th. I am looking for a parent or two to coordinate our party and what we will need. It is a cookie decorating part with snacks. Let me know if you are interested in helping with this.

Pajama Day: Our December spirit day will be Pajama Day! On December 19th, students may wear PJ's, slippers and robes to school. All outfits must be school appropriate and tights under nighties are encouraged. Keep in mind that kids will still be going outside for recess and also attending specials.
