

News from the Kinder-Garden!

What's new in Ms. Deming's Kindergarten?

Upcoming Events:

Aug. 26th: Kindergarten Virtual Launch!

Aug. 27th: Kindergarten Live Launch!

Sept. 7th: No School, Labor Day.

Welcome! The first day of kindergarten is always exciting and this year will be no different. We may not be gathering in person quite yet but we will still have fun, learn a lot and grow in so many ways. There are so many great new experiences to have in kindergarten, online and in person. If you ever have any questions feel free to contact me.

Newsletters: This is an example of the weekly classroom newsletter. You will receive them every Monday via email and the announcement section in Canvas. Look it over to familiarize yourself with the layout.

Uniforms: Students may wear their uniforms when we do Live Zooms but it is not required. In preparation for in-person school please put your child's name on everything!!! Label, label, label!

School Supplies: We are not meeting in-person yet but if you want to get school supplies while there are sales I have a couple things to add to the posted list. Each child will need a pencil box and a pair of scissors, labeled with their name.

Specials Schedule:

Our specials teachers will be on a rotational schedule assigned to classrooms in two week slots. We will start out with Music! PE and Art will rotate through later.

What we are studying:

Language Arts: This is the section where you will find the new phonograms and words we are studying for the week.

Math: This is where you will find the math concepts we will be exploring.

Science or Social Studies: This section will be for science, social studies or both. It has all the topics we will learn for the week.

Books we will read:

Look here for a few of the books we will read for fun or to support our learning.
