

Dear Parents,

Welcome back! It is good to be back! (even if it is so cold outside!)

We are jumping right back into things! We are back to regular spelling – S4 this week. We have new literature circle partners and fluency partners. In math, we are working on understanding data. In science we will be studying weather this week and we will be starting the Constitution in Social Studies. I really encourage parents to talk to their kids about the importance of the Constitution and especially the Bill of Rights. I don't talk about my views on politics, but I encourage the kids to ask you about your views and opinions!

THERE IS NO PIZZA FRIDAY THIS WEEK! Ignore the slip!

Looking forward to a great year with minimal "Shake UP"! 😊
